About Extract-ED

Extract-ED LLC provides training to law enforcement, prosecutors, and civilian entities in a variety of topics, which include criminal statutes, drug impairment, code of state regulations, workplace safety, and more. Since established in 2018, we have provided training to thousands of students, from all around the United States. Extract-ED is committed to providing training courses without expensive contracts. Our training can be purchased by single users or in large packages. We are an "approved" training provider for Missouri and Oklahoma law enforcement. We are versatile in how we present our training, as most of our presentations can be taken in person, live streaming, or on our online, on-demand platform. This makes us different from other training providers. Our goal is to provide quality, up-to-date training, at a low cost to the student.

Outside Presentations

In an effort to broaden our area of training offered, Extract-ED is seeking quality training courses for law enforcement or civilian employers. These must be presented by instructors who are experts in their field or from an instructor who holds a Generalist Instructor license, or the equivalent in another state. We are currently seeking presentations in the areas of:

- Criminal Investigation
- Narcotics Investigation
- Civil Disturbance
- Ethics
- Racial Profiling
- Legal
- Interview and Interrogation
- Officer Health and Wellness
- Implicit Bias
- Cultural Diversity

We are open to other unique presentations and we are happy to review any idea or training that is submitted.

Why Present Through Extract-ED?

Outside instructors now have the opportunity to present their training through Extract-ED, potentially earning a supplemental income. We have established a training foundation for Missouri law enforcement and civilian companies, which now reaches over several thousand students and is growing daily. Presenting through Extract-ED immediately puts your presentation in front of all of our students. We have also established a large contact list, in addition to social media sites, that reach officers and civilian companies across the country. Your presentation will be promoted using these platforms, making it available to a large network of students.
What Does Extract-ED Do?

After the trainer provides specific information on their course, Extracted-ED submits all the paperwork to the Missouri Peace Officer Standardized Training Program to get the course approved for continuing education hours. We will apply for the training to be approved for computer-based training (online/on-demand). Once the training is approved and issued a POST number, we maintain all records of the training applications and approvals.

Once your training is completed and begins to be presented, we provide rosters and all POST certificates to the students. Extract-ED manages and enrolls students into your online training courses. We upload all the required information into the CLEE system, so officers will receive their POST credit. This is done on a quarterly basis. Once the training is complete, we maintain records for the training which includes the course rosters and POST certificates.

We place your presentation on our online training platform. This includes uploading the training videos, handouts, and quiz questions, as required by POST, and grading the quizzes. Extract-ED monitors the course content and the student's progress. If the student fails a quiz, we notify the student and reset the quiz and the session so the student may continue the course.

Extract-ED collects all payments for the training and maintains the online collection system. This system allows the students to purchase a single training at anytime or an entity to purchase the training for a large number of students. Course purchase records are maintained and can be provided monthly.

How Does It Work?

The outside instructor creates a presentation using PowerPoint, Prezi, Google Slides, Keynote, or their presentation platform of choice. Once their presentation is complete, the instructor will record their presentation. If necessary, Extract-ED will provide a program to the instructor to record the presentation. Once the presentation is recorded, Extract-ED will edit the video, divide it into sessions, and create quiz questions. Once this is complete, the final product will be provided to the instructor for approval before being published to the online training platform. Once the instructor approves the training, it will be posted to Extract-ED's online training platform.

Extract-ED will pay the instructor monthly via check or Venmo. Extract-ED collects 9% of the course earnings.

Instructors maintain ownership of their materials. If instructors set up in-person training on their own, they have no obligation to provide Extract-ED with any information.

Extract-ED may receive requests for your training to be presented in person. Extract-ED will notify the instructor of these requests, though the instructor has no obligation to present in person. If the instructor chooses to present in person, they choose their own speaker fees. If the in-person training is set up and arranged by Extract-ED and is presented using an Extract-ED POST control number, then a 9% fee will be assessed to maintain the course records.

Instructor Obligations

Once the training is presented, any questions received from students about the training will be forwarded to the instructor to be answered. Each instructor will receive an annual assurance request. This request will clarify that to the instructor's knowledge, all information in the presentation is currently up to date with all criminal and civil laws. If the instructor does not complete the assurance request within 30 days of receiving the request, their training will be removed from the online platform.

All presenters will receive a contract with details about presenting their training through Extract-ED. The contract will be valid until January 1st of the following year. No instructor is obligated to keep their presentation on the Extract-ED site. If an instructor requests the training to be removed from the online platform, the course will be closed for enrollment and it will be removed after all students currently enrolled complete the training.
